

Holland Is Held Over For Trial

Bond Is Set At $15,000; Three Days Hearing Ended On Saturday

Edgar Holland, former Sedalia automobile dealer, but of late a farmer, seven miles northwest of La Monte, late Saturday afternoon was bound over to the action of the October term of criminal court by Judge A. M. Harlan, justice of the peace, following a three day hearing. Judge Harlan set Holland's bond at $15,000 which Holland hopes to give, probably Monday.

The hearing, on which speculation was made, would take at least four to five days, came to an abrupt ending late Saturday when Holland's attorney, Fred F. Wesner, announced "the defense rests". Immediately Leo J. Harned, prosecuting attorney came to his feet and stated, "the state recommends the defendant be bound over to the October term of criminal court without bond."

Discussion On Bond
Mr. Wesner then came to his feet and stated, "I don't think there is sufficient evidence to bind this man over at all, but so far as I am concerned I will not take issue with the court as to whether the defendant should, or should not, be bound over to the criminal court. But if the court binds this man over I think he should be permitted to give bond, and I so want to be heard on this point."

"I will take issue as to whether he is to be bound over without bond. Under all evidence and law he is entitled to bond, and if there's any doubt in the mind of the court about that phase of the case then I want to be heard."

Judge Harlan then said that if this was to be done, he would set the hearing of the discussion over until next Monday, but preferred Wednesday. At this point Mr. Wesner stated he would like to hold a brief conference with the state attorneys, Mr. Harned, and Covell Hewitt, assistant attorney general who was assisting Mr. Harned, along with the judge, and see if the matter could be settled in a few minutes.

The group left the court room and went to the private office of Roy Snyder, Circuit Court Reporter, where they discussed the point briefly and then returned to the court room, crowded with spectators, who waited to hear the latest developments.

Thanks From Judge
Judge Harlan, before the conference said, "First, before I give my decision, I want to thank the attorneys on both sides for the splendid manner in which they conducted themselves, the audience for their attention and not creating disturbances. As far as my duty is concerned," he said, "at this time my jurisdiction is to find if any crime has been committed, and second as to whether or not there is probable cause to send the defendant to the higher court, the circuit court."

"On the first question, there's no doubt a crime has been committed and as to the second, I find as to the probable guilt of the defendant the State has offered sufficient evidence for the probable cause, and it is my duty

Allied Flags Fly In Copenhagen

By ROBERT N. STURDEVANT
STOCKHOLM, July 1.—(AP)—Allied flags flew tonight from barricades in the streets of Copenhagen, where 15,000 Danish patriots, brandishing machine-guns and rifles, were reported ready to fight to the finish against a German garrison of 3,000 being bolstered hourly by other troops rushing in from Zealand.

After a night of street fighting, during which one unconfirmed report said German planes machine-gunned the demonstrators, the patriots brought out United States, British, Russian and Danish flags and hung them defiantly above their improvised "fortress."

The Swedish newspaper Aftonbladet quoted a report from the underground that the demonstrators—who began a general strike yesterday—now were 15,000 strong.

Observers at Malmo, Sweden, just across the Oresund sound from Copenhagen, said smoke could be seen rising above the city, apparently from the bonfires started by the demonstrators.

Denison Dam Is Dedicated

DENISON, Tex., July 1.—(AP)—The $54,000,000 Denison dam was dedicated today in more than two hours of speeches as a structure which would protect the Red river valley in four states from floods, manufacture power for industry and rural electrification, and permit development of a huge recreational area.

Speaker Sam Rayburn of Texas, whose address was the climax of nine which sketched inception of the world's greatest rolled fill earthen structure, and prophesied its benefits, called it a "working, dynamic development that expresses the spirit of our people."

In addition to the address of Rayburn, there were speeches by Mayor W. L. Ashburn of Denison; Major General Eugene Reybold of Washington, chief of army engineers; M. E. Ewing of Madill, Okla., of the Red river valley development association; Representatives Paul Stewart of Oklahoma, Wright Patman of Texas and Ed Gossett of Texas; U. S. Senator Elmer Thomas of Oklahoma, and U. S. Senator John McLellan of Arkansas.

Nazi Lines Fall Back In Italy On Wide Front

Allied Forces Are Marching On Prize Cities

By JOHN F. CHESTER
ROME, July 1.—(AP)—The German lines fell back tonight all along the 165-mile Italian front under blows of the Fifth and Eighth army marching on the prize cities of Livorno (Leghorn), Florence and Ancona.

The Fifth army beat back a tank-led counterattack and fought into the outskirts of Cecina, on the Tyrrhenian sea coast only 20 miles below Livorno.

The French of the Fifth army fought a mile through the mountains to within six miles of Siena, a highway center 31 miles below Florence.

British, South African and Indian troops in the center moved up both the east and west shores of Lake Trasimeno against sporadic resistance.

The Eighth on the east crossed the Chienti river—a barrier which had blocked its advance for several days—and the Germans fell back toward a line along the Musone river, 10 miles from the Adriatic Port of Ancona.

U. S. Units Cross River

While U. S. troops fought for Cecina, other American units crossed the Cecina river three miles to the northeast, partly outflanking this town of 10,000 population. Advance elements were only 17 miles from Livorno.

The French closing in on Siena had to battle for 24 hours in advancing the single mile against fierce German resistance. They captured a number of places including Buonconvento and San Giovanni.

The doughboy advance overran Guardistallo, six miles east of Cecina, and Casala, five miles southeast. An armored column fought through enemy fire and minefields in taking the village of Montecerboli, Montecastelli and San Dalmazio, all within 25 miles of Cecina on the east.

The British on the west shore of the lake advanced up almost its entire length, and took the village of Gracciano.

On the east shore, Indian troops captured Monte Del Lago, halfway up the lake.

Farther east other troops reached Corciano, six miles west of Perugia.

A captured document from the headquarters of Field Marshal Gen. Albert Kesselring credited the Allies with launching the Italian offensive "with absolute coordination" and said the performance of Allied tanks and vehicles was "astoundingly good."

The document said the Allies had advanced over mountains terrain considered impassable.

Register Now To Give Blood

The Red Cross Blood Bank opens at the Elks Home on July 10, to continue through July 14. So far appointments are being made very slowly, and it is particularly important that appointments be made, because only a certain number of pints can be taken each day, in spite of the fact that a goal has been set. To make this possible to reach the goal appointments must be divided evenly through the days the Blood Bank is open.

Response from LaMonte, Warsaw, Florence and Versailles has been very good. Sedalians seem to be lagging, probably thinking they have plenty of time. They are asked not to wait, but to register at once, call telephone 130.

Hillbilly Music Is Given In Meeting Saturday Night

Charles P. Noell, a candidate for the Republican nomination to the U. S. senate, with his well-known "hill billy" show, was in Sedalia Saturday night in the interest of promoting his campaign, and a large crowd was present on the west court house lawn for the meeting.

Featuring "Goo Goo" Rutledge, star of the Weaver Brothers and Elvry show, the performance of more than an hour of old-fashioned hillbilly music included numbers by Ozarks Jerry Fronek, of Springfield, and three local entertainers, Howard Fisher, Glenn Keightley and Ernest Richardson.

Last winter Noell visited Sedalia with his team and spring wagon while on a tour of the state. The team was from his own farm in Franklin county, near Pacific, Mo.

Talks On His Platform
Speaking only a few minutes, the candidate made clear his stand and the six points of his platform:

Winning the war, establishment of a people's peace through international treaties made by congress and the president, care of fighting men after the war is over, decreasing the cost of government, encouragement of real enterprise and freedom of action for farmers.

"He is married, has four children and four grandchildren. His son, John W. Noell, the only son of military age, is a sergeant in the army, and a son-in-law, John H. Haley, is a captain. Both entered the army as privates.

His show attracted a crowd of more than 4,000 persons at the St. Louis Convention Hall last Sunday afternoon and more than 2,000 in Springfield last Wednesday night, it was reported. Putting on three shows daily, Noell left this morning for Kansas City, stopping last night at the Hotel Bothwell.

With Noell on his present tour are his younger son, Charles, Jr., and a friend, James Crook, who assist with the distribution of literature, the setting up of the public address system and other functions.

'Keep Things We Fight For'

Dewey Greeted By Crowds On Return Home

By JACK BELL
ALBANY, July 1.—(AP)—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, standing hands in pockets on the steps of New York's nineteenth century state capitol, told a cheering crowd today that America risks a war-time election "because that to us means we are free men and are going to keep the things we fight for."

Home from his triumphant nomination in Chicago as the Republican presidential candidate, Dewey was greeted by crowds that packed the railroad station, lined the streets to the capitol and gathered 2,500 strong under huge shade trees to listen to him express thanks for the welcome.

State police estimated a turnout totaling 10,000 and local residents said it was an unusual tribute in a town that has been solidly Democratic for years in its voting.

Introduced by state senate leader Benjamin F. Feinberg, who had been acting as governor, as "the next president," Dewey declared: "We are able to argue about things which mean most to us while everyone keeps his shoulder to the wheel," Dewey said. "It means to the Axis that doom will come sooner because we are so strong we can argue among ourselves and fight a war better as we do it. After Nov. 7 America will be stronger."

Appreciates Reception
Dewey thanked the crowd, which included many women, a sprinkling of uniformed men, office and factory workers, for its "friendly and cordial reception," remarking that he had more chance in this instance to see neighbors than he had had in months.

"I hope you will permit me to say that I hope you feel about me the same way in November," he said, as those gathered under the trees roared approval. As he spoke, party enthusiasts held aloft a large banner on which was painted: "We did it before and we'll do it again."

New Technique In Mass Drop

Many Pilots In Demonstration Trained At SAAF

POPE FIELD, FORT BRAGG, N. C., July 1.—Troop Carrier pilots returned today to this Troop Carrier base after successfully completing a "mass invasion drop" of 600 fully-equipped paratroopers who completely captured an enemy air strip at Camp McArthur, Long Island, New York, climaxing a week of combined army and navy maneuvers.

The pilots of the dependable C-47 Troop Carrier Command transports, many of whom trained at Sedalia army air field, demonstrated the newest technique of the "mass para-drop," applying Troop Carrier Command tactics used during the spearhead skytrain invasion of Normandy.

The highlight of the exercise was the jumping of 600 paratroopers from the 541st Parachute Infantry Regiment and the 467th Parachute Field Artillery Battalion from Camp Mackall, N. C. They were dropped from 41 Troop Carrier transports while a fighter cover of Navy Hellcats, hovered overhead.

Carried By Stiff Wind
The drama of the jump was heightened by a stiff 30-mile per hour wind that carried some of the jumpers away from the small landing area. Several landed on telephone wires and houses, causing minor injuries to nine men.

High ranking army and navy officials, among them, Brigadier General Frederick W. Evans, commanding general of the First Troop Carrier Command, were on hand to witness the tactical problem. Wordwise newspapermen were visibly impressed as the skies were darkened by the vast hoard of paratroopers.

The actual attack of the airfield began with a scramble of navy pilots to get their fast fighters and dive bombers off the ground from a nearby field.

Deafening anti-aircraft batteries filled the sky with flak as huge B-24 Liberator bombers made a run over the strip. The small, fast pursuit ships roared over the field time and time again, strafing and bombing the various installations.

As the paratroopers landed, they quickly freed themselves from their "chutes and dashed to the vari-colored bundles which carried parts of the 75-mm pack Howitzers. Each man was busy at his job of assembling the weapon—getting it set up and firing—within five minutes from the time it was dropped from the Troop Carrier transport. Within thirty minutes the landing field was completely captured and in control of the invading paratroopers.

The Sedalia army air field was represented at the tactical problem by the Public Relation Officer of the Air Base, who assisted Major Vincent P. Wilber, Public Relations Officer of the I Troop Carrier Command, in explaining the maneuvers to over 200 newspapermen and photographers.

Reds Tighten Up In Drive To Capture Minsk

Kill Thousands Of Shattered Nazis In Their Advance

By TOM YARBROUGH

LONDON, Sunday, July 2.—(AP)—Driving irresistibly westward, Red troops made advances of as much as 20 miles on the flanks of the White Russian capital of Minsk yesterday and captured more than 500 places including the large railway center of Borisov, Moscow announced.

The day's fighting, adding thousands more killed and captured Germans to the losses already inflicted on the shattered Nazi forces, prepared the way for a final assault on Minsk itself.

Associated Press Correspondent Eddy Gilmore in a dispatch from Moscow said three of the four Russian armies fighting in White Russia already had united their forces and begun their attack on the great city which guards the historic route to Warsaw and Berlin.

Borisov, 46 miles from Minsk on the direct railway, was completely occupied early Saturday morning after a night of violent street fighting in which more than 8,000 Nazi officers and men were killed, Moscow's supplementary communique early today said.

Destroy 80 Tanks
Many prisoners were taken and 80 tanks and more than 200 guns were destroyed as the Germans were pounded back in utter rout, the supplement stated.

Even before Borisov fell Red troops had driven far beyond and Moscow announced that two district centers north of Minsk, Begoml and Pleschenitsy, had been captured.

In the south the first White Russian army of Marshal Konstantin K. Rokossovsky, advanced 20 miles northwest of Slutsk and captured the town of Kopyl. In the same area Krasnaya Sloboda and Gresk also were taken.

The third White Russian army of Gen. Ivan Cherniakovsky, driving directly toward Minsk along the rail line from Orsha, widened its front on the western bank of the Berezina river to 70 miles, the Soviet communique said, and plunged onward even while units to the rear wiped out the last German resistance in Borisov, a city of Gwynnypopulation 46 miles east of Minsk.

Flanking movements by other Soviet troops were even closer to the White Russian capital, which field dispatches said was within sound of approaching battle.

The capture of 12,000 more Germans to the south by the first White Russian army of Marshal Konstantin K. Rokossovsky, on Friday also was announced in the communique, which said a Nazi lieutenant general and a major general were among the prisoners taken.

The new round-up brought to 35,680 the number of German captives taken on the southern front.

Have You Made Your Appointment for the Red Cross Blood Bank, July 10-14

Crossroads Comment

by G.H.S.

Post-War Memorials—

The post-war era will undergo another spasm of building memorials; a throw-back to barbaric custom we moderns have been unable to shake off.

Washington and many other large cities and towns are sprinkled with dirty looking monuments and heroes waving swords and guns. They were attractive when first erected, then public neglect let the elements make of them dirty-looking scare crows. Millions of dollars have been wasted on this puerile attempt to glorify the war dead.

Those concerned with post-war planning might begin now to promote an educational campaign among the citizenry to discourage the anticipated locust-like invasion swarm of statue-selling salesmen.

What then shall we do to honor those boys living and dead who sacrificed themselves to win the war?

If thousands of dollars are to be spent, why not consider a memorial of some utility to the coming generations, something that will be more than passing interest, something that will contribute to the physical and educational and spiritual development among today's children and among those who come later.

It might be considered asinine to suggest that a public swimming pool for the physical development of youth is a suitable war memorial. But why not? Modern pools of large proportion are operated in towns much smaller than Sedalia.

Would not an annex to Bothwell hospital be a proper memorial? Fast approaching is the day when present facilities will be inadequate to accommodate the ever-increasing number of citizens who are becoming hospital-minded; and are buying insurance to provide them with hospital instead of home ministrations.

Mankind always has had an innate propensity to preserve articles of permanent interest. What better memorial than a Pettis County Historical Museum. The nucleus of this enterprise is already established. But the court house corridors will not always furnish ample space for the display cases. A small permanent building, centrally located, containing thousands of historical objects of interest would be a community asset; a splendid memorial tribute far more appropriate than some of the ghastly monuments that utterly strain the imagination of spectators and perform no utilitarian purpose whatsoever; and compared with which even a memorial drinking fountain on Ohio avenue would be more suitable.

A Good Investment—Sedalia Preferred—

First Sergeant "Tommy" Foster writes from London: "I have met several flight officers in London and various places and towns on his majesty's island and they all praise the Sedalia Army Air Base very highly, and also Sedalia. In fact, after the war is over they would like to make Sedalia their home."

This is not merely a verbal effusion on Tommy's part to make the home town folks feel happy. What Tommy has heard overseas is a repetition of comments heard time and again from army personnel in and out of the Sedalia Air Base.

One army officer's wife who has traveled extensively and whose home is in another state came to live in Sedalia while her husband was stationed at the air base. When he went overseas she could have gone to a half a dozen other towns or cities to reside and await his return. Her preference was Sedalia, so she came back here to live among a host of friends. A lieutenant from Indiana, formerly at the base, writes a friend to locate a farm near Sedalia for him to occupy when he returns home from China.

There's something about Sedalia that clicks.

When contemplating post-war problems, Sedalians should consider those army officers and their families who, on return to civilian status, prefer to come back to Sedalia to live.

Plans should be made now by the Chamber of Commerce to get behind a constructive housing program, one that will be well-planned and ready to get off to a good start when peace comes and restrictive building regulations are lifted. Delay in planning may mean the difference between gaining or losing some mighty fine new citizens.

A Balking Delegate—

A balking, Beloit, Wisconsin farmer-delegate to the Republican national convention "voted his conviction" for General MacArthur by casting the lone ballot that kept Dewey from receiving a unanimous vote. Which reminds us of the story about Mose's mule, Effie.

When Mose wanted to go uphill, the mule chose to go downhill; if Mose wanted to drive Effie in the shade, the animal moved into the sun. One day when Effie was burdened with two bags of stone brought in by a boat, the mule balked on the dock. Instead of moving forward as Mose demanded, Effie moved back and fell off the dock into the river, disappearing from view.

Mose leaned over the dock shaking his fist at the rising bubbles: "Yo' Effie, Ah hope fo' once yo' has got yo' most complete satisfaction."

A New Voice Comes Out of the Wilderness—

There is distinct absence of vocal discontent over selection of Governor Thomas E. Dewey and Governor John W. Bricker, as Republican presidential and vice-presidential candidates.

Republicans wear a grin of satisfaction portraying assurance their party has two stalwarts capable of national leadership. The New Dealers are simulating nonchalance like the conscience-stricken bad boy whistling in the dark to bolster courage.

There seems to be universal agreement that candidate Dewey has an appealing radio-voice, something none of his predecessors—Hoover, London or Wilkie—had. The Dewey voice in his acceptance speech stimulated soothing confidence among listeners and revealed his mastery of the mechanics of oratory.

Americans will be impelled to listen to Mr. Dewey bringing refreshing modulation over the political air waves.

Preceding the November election the author of the familiar salutation, "Mah friends," is destined to have substantial competition in the art of ethereal hypnosis.

Danger in Political Personality Mud-Slinging—

You might just as well try to stop the sun from coming up in the morning as try to restrain some Democrats and Republicans from encouraging a mud-slinging campaign.

The sensible intent of the leaders is to refrain from low tactics, striking below the belt. But party leaders may have as much difficulty controlling the viciousness of subordinates as do union leaders attempting to control illegal wild-cat strikes of some locals.

Republicans, of course, will make an irreparable mistake damning all Democrats as New Dealers. All Democrats are not bureaucratic-minded and they will resent mud-slinging generalities; sensitive of their right to be called a Democrat, resentful of being called a hide-bound New Dealer.

The Republicans, if they win, must have many thousands of these loyal Democrats on their side come voting day. And right now is the time for Republicans to become a bit cautious about methods of dirt slinging. The temptation to vilify will be great because the New Dealers will egg them on.

It might be well to define the meaning of mud-slinging. It does not mean either party or its leaders are invulnerable to criticism. Many sharp words will be spoken about the New Deal and about the Republican party. The dirty mud-slinging that should be curbed is that relating to personalities, libelous innuendo, filthy and wholly untruthful gossip, twisted meaning about party candidates and their families, inferences such as those that President Roosevelt deliberately carried the nation into war. This is a shameful untruth intended to generate hatred among distressed mothers and fathers of dead and wounded soldiers.

California's Governor Warren in his keynote speech set the mark: "Keep the war out of politics and politics out of the war."

There is plenty else to talk about on the domestic front.

Death Knell For Special Road Districts (?)—

There are 28 Special Road Districts in Pettis county with three commissioners in each district interested in good roads for their community, seeing they are maintained properly.

Taxes for this work now levied by the county cost is 15 cents on the hundred dollars and the Special Road Districts get all of it.

Those interested in preserving this system ought to know about a section in the File on Taxation which will come before the Constitutional Convention for adoption or rejection soon.

Dr. M. E. Gouge, of Sedalia, a delegate to the convention says that Section 12, File No. 19 provides that the county may levy a tax not exceeding 35c on the hundred dollars assessed valuation to be used by such county SOLELY for road and bridge purposes.

The proviso that this fund be used by the county SOLELY will do away with all of the Special Road Districts in the state, in the opinion of Dr. Gouge who says that while there is a provision they can levy an additional special tax for special road districts after the county levy, this would make the tax so high that it would not be done.

Joplin, Carthage and Webb City special road districts have organized to oppose this proposal affecting road districts. Many petitions and remonstrances are being sent to Constitutional Convention delegates.

Very often matters such as these that come before the convention are overlooked by the people and Dr. Gouge as a delegate from this district desires to hear from the taxpayers about the stand he proposes to take on the convention floor opposing the change in the special road taxation plan. If there is any merit to the plan he would like to know about it. Right now he is dead set against it, but says that his arguments will be more effective if they have the support of remonstrances from the people themselves. Protests should come at once since the matter is likely to reach the convention floor within a week or two.

Communications may be sent him in care of the Constitutional Convention, Jefferson City.

Earth In Slow-Down Process—

Those who mournfully complain that "the world is traveling too fast these days," may be slightly consoled by the revelation that the earth is gradually slowing down in its rotation, with a consequent lengthening of our day amounting to approximately one-thousandth of a second every century.

Entirely Fictitious—

While a prominent lady was walking down Pennsylvania avenue in Washington, a policeman became highly excited when a bystander remarked: "Do we brick her?" The policeman cooled off when the questioner explained he was merely asking a friend if the Republicans had nominated Dewey-Bricker for president and vice-president.

Front and Rear, Attack—

Texas New Dealers and Texas Democrats are split by disaffection over an FDR fourth term. Their reflex behaviorism is much like the Australian bulldog ant; when cut in two its front and rear ends will fight each other.

I want to know when I fall into oblivion that I have never harmed France, but served her well. — Collaborationist French Premier Pierre Laval.

I never went into any action that I was not frightened. That's what I told my men when they came to me for encouragement.—Comdr. Donald J. MacDonald, Navy's most decorated officer.

Merry-go-round

. . . by Drew Pearson

GAITHERSBURG, Maryland—

Dear Sister: I have just come back from Chicago, where I saw the Grand Old Party go through its quadrennial birthpangs of nominating a presidential candidate. And, more important from your viewpoint, I saw your husband for the first time in the uniform of a private in Uncle Sam's army.

The convention, from a newspaperman's viewpoint, was dull. The ticket scalpers lost money. Even Republican leaders complained about the dullness, bemoaned the fact that they couldn't get a crowd out on the first day to hear Governor Warren's keynote speech. However, from a political viewpoint, this dullness may have been a good thing. What makes a good newspaper story doesn't necessarily make for success on Election Day.

But what some people resented, especially the Bricker boys, was too much steam-roller tactics and too much of the greased Dewey machine. It looked a little like the early steam-roller days of the New Deal.

Out here in Maryland, where it's clean and green and where the farmers are cutting their hay and cultivating their corn without worrying much about keynote speakers or keyhole politics, I look back at Chicago and the whole political broil seems rather tawdry and out of place.

But when you think about it carefully, it isn't. Chicago was part of the machinery of political opposition. And political opposition is what makes this country strong—able to weather wars and depressions and internal turmoil. The Roosevelt administration would have profited from more political opposition in the early days. They're going to get a good dose of it this fall. And as long as it doesn't hit below the belt and bring the war into politics, it will be a healthy thing.

And I hope that whoever is elected president will have plenty of fair, honest political opposition. It will keep him on his toes.

G.I. Goes to GOP

What I really started to write you about, however, was Gordon. He was able to leave camp only one day, Sunday, therefore never got a chance to see the convention in session. Despite that, I think he got a greater kick out of it than Mr. Dewey himself—and out of sleeping in a soft bed!

He went out to the convention hall the day before it opened and watched all the preparations that go into the staging of the greatest show on earth—the myriad of telephone and telegraph wires to carry the story to the country, the loud-speakers which the Republicans were terribly afraid might fall into the hands of Mayor Kelly's sewer commissioner, and even the sawing off of the state flagpoles after the Chicago Sun photographer complained that he couldn't shoot through the Michigan state flagpole because it was too high.

If everyone took their politics as seriously and as enthusiastically as your husband, we would have a better-run country. There are others like him, however. Sunday night, before he caught the train back to camp, he brought some of his buddies up to my hotel room, and they too are doing a lot of thinking. They are thinking about what's going to happen after the war.

The Republican platform had not been finally drafted then, but already word had leaked out that the Chicago Tribune and its isolationist friends were working for a weasel-worded compromise on world cooperation for peace—similar to that of President Harding's day. And believe me, if the Republicans or any other party let down the men who come back from this war in regard to preventing another war—then it's going to be just too bad for whoever is responsible.

The men in this war are doing

To Those Who Came In Late:
This is the story of what happened to Pinky Harrison after he was killed in a foxhole. The scene is Heavenly Bend Junction, half-way point between the Earth and Big Valley. Travelers stay here until they stop looking back to Earth.

XIII

"D.R.Y. as a bone . . . will you look at that! And I asked him just last night: 'Did you water the garden?' I said, 'Sure,' he said. Last week, he meant."

Julie, as she spoke, darted the green watering can around angrily. "Nothing but that Pinky fellow on his mind all evening—all night, to be more exact."

"Guess you had a time around here," Matt observed from the fence, against which he was leaning.

"Time! Nobody slept a wink."

"Little girl, wasn't it?"

"Born at four-thirty, finally. But even then you couldn't get anybody to bed. Poor little thing, though . . . I guess she is in a bad way."

"The mother?"

"Oh, no, she's fine. The baby. Doesn't look like she'll pull through."

"Is that a fact?"

"I'm afraid so."

"Matt sighed. 'Well, it's a shame we can't do something for Pinky.'"

"Oh, but he's going to . . . didn't I tell you?"

"Who?"

"Father! He's going to try to send a messenger through."

"Has he gone crazy?"

"That's what I said, too."

"When?" Worriedly, Matt looked at his watch.

"Soon as he can get out to the Big Valley and go one. He's getting ready now. Personally, I don't get it. We've been through all this before, you know. But Pinky begged him, and it seems he just can't say no to that kid. What is it about a red-headed guy with freckles that just gets him?"

"Well, he felt the same way about Pinky's father when he was up here, remember? Not that he had freckles or was a boy anymore, but—"

"Not Timothy Harrison?"

"Same." Matt watched the quick flush of pleasure that spread over Julie's face.

"Well . . . well, Timothy Harrison," Julie mused, and automatically gave a pat to her plainly knotted brown hair. "So that's why. No wonder Father's sending a messenger then."

"Still a lot of nonsense," Matt concluded. "But I suppose if he's set on it, he's set. Well—I'd better get on to the office and get the weather report. Might help 'em to map the route. There was heavy bombing to the south an hour ago, and a dense smoke cloud." From the end of the fence, he turned back: "Tell him to send the messenger by the office."

"I will."

Julie turned as Pinky came out onto the porch, stared at him a long moment. "Pinky, you haven't eaten anything. Can't I get you some milk or something?"

Miserable as Pinky was, he noticed the sudden softening in her manner. "Why, no, Julie, thank you." But then he figured it out: That's the way people felt about other people when their babies were about to die—couldn't help feeling sorry for them. "That's sweet of you, Julie, but I couldn't."

"I'll see if I can hurry him up for you." As she moved back to the doorway, she saw the old man now coming down the stairs.

"I'm sorry I was so long," he apologized to Pinky as he came out.

"That's all right, sir," Pinky had leapt up from the porch steps. "Sir, I was thinking—maybe if you could just send me, I'd get through!"

"No, Pinky, you're not ready yet. I can only send someone from Big Valley." He suddenly noticed Julie glaring disapprovingly at his shirt front. "Now what is it, miss!"

She reached out to examine one of his cuffs, shook her head: "Father, I told you to change your shirt!"

"It's all right; I just put it on yesterday!"

"It's not all right. In the old days two days for a shirt was one thing, but with all the smoke we're getting up here now—"

He moved away impatiently. "Julie, I've been up all night—and I haven't time now."

"Well, it's nothing to me, but I should think you'd want to keep up appearances. When a man's out of a job, that's exactly the time when he should—" she stopped quickly, seeing she had hurt him. "I'm sorry, Father."

"That's all right, Julie."

He patted her arm, then started off. "Don't you worry now, son," he called to Pinky.

They watched him march off to the corner then cut off across the Square.

"Poor old soul," Julie said sadly. "Why do I keep making it harder for him? Every day I make some kind of blunder! It's tough, you know, Pinky, when a person's been busy and active all his life. Yesterday it was asking him to stop by the dairy on his way back from the station. You should have seen his face. 'No, Julie,' he said, 'one thing I'm not doing is running errands.'"

Julie paused, then continued sweetly: "In a way it's only because I'm trying to give him something to do, fill up his time, make him think he's busy."

"What?" Pinky looked up blankly. "Excuse me, Julie—I wasn't listening."

"I know you weren't. But that's all right." She suddenly remembered that she'd forgotten to tell the old man to have the messenger stop by the office. Oh, well.

She went around to the tool shed to put away the watering can.

FOR STATE SENATOR
15th District

W. W. Blain

To the People of the 15th Senatorial District:

I am a candidate for the Republican nomination to the office of State Senator in the 15th Senatorial District. I believe that from my experience I can serve the people from this district in the State Senate to your satisfaction.

After attending the rural schools of Ray County, Missouri, the State Teachers' College at Warrensburg, Missouri, and William Jewell College at Liberty, Missouri, I attended the University of Missouri, graduating with the degree of L. L. B., and since that time and for the past thirty years have been practicing law in Sedalia and the surrounding counties.

Having been born and reared in the country and having always lived in a small town, except when I lived on a farm, I think I am familiar with the problems of all the counties in this district. I am highly in favor of obtaining all possible financial state aid for all rural schools. This has been an increasing problem with each succeeding legislature and will be one of the major problems confronting the 63rd General Assembly. I assure the people of this district that if I am elected as State Senator I shall not vote at any time to reduce the state school appropriation of the general revenue fund.

I am also familiar with the problems of Social Security and Old Age Assistance. I have discussed many of these problems with some of the leaders of the Republican Party in the state, I am confident that if we have a Republican administration of the state government of Missouri for the next four years, we will see many changes in the Social Security Laws that will be to the benefit of the old people.

to bind him over to the criminal court."

After the conference, Judge Harlan stated, "I have come to the conclusion as to what is fair and right in such cases as this, that unless evidence is strong enough against the accused in first degree murder, the defendant is entitled to bond sufficient to hold him and see that he is here for the higher court. I am determined that a $15,000 bond ought to be sufficient."

Experts Bond Be Arranged

Mr. Wesner stated that as soon as possible bond would be arranged for Holland's release.

The first emotion shown by the defendant since the hearing began was after the setting of the bond, and several of his neighbors walked around to where he was sitting and shook hands with him. At this point, tears were seen to come to his eyes. He quickly shook hands with his friends, acknowledged their sympathetic words, and went to the office of Sheriff C. Ross Bothwell.

Thirty-Eight Testified

Only thirty-nine witnesses of more than fifty-eight were used at the hearing.

Because many persons who had been attending the hearing were under the impression that it might continue over to Monday or even Tuesday, the court room was less than half filled during the hearing Saturday. The greater number of those present were women and young girls.

Saturday's Procedure

J. T. Nutt, was the first on the stand Saturday morning the attorneys not finishing with his testimony Friday evening when court was adjourned. He continued to tell of redecorating work done in the home and again declared "I never noticed anything wrong or unusual about the home when we went there to work."

Leo Pace, Knob Noster, operator of a cleaning and pressing business, told of taking Holland to his home on Saturday night April 15 after he returned from Kansas City. He said he was accompanied by Charles Boyd, an employee in his shop, and both entered the home and were there about twenty to forty minutes, did not notice anything wrong, nor were the women at home. He also told of taking Holland on to LaMonte from the farm, and saw him in town as late as 11:30 o'clock that night.

Boyd was called to the stand and gave similar testimony.

Captain Shaw was recalled to the stand and again told of going to the Holland home about 5:30 o'clock the morning of May 18, of his conversation with the defendant, and of the defendant telling him that he did not believe the bodies were those of his wife and mother-in-law. He told of questioning Holland and arresting him early the morning of May 20.

Karl Wimer, LaMonte, operator of a lumber yard, told of Holland taking to his place a storm door and sash, covered with dirt and dust. He also said he did not notice the stain on the door until it was called to his attention by the Highway Patrol officers. He said that he didn't remember when it was taken to his place, but it could have been before April 15, and maybe a short time later.

Said Woman Not Wife

Captain Hansen was also recalled and he told of Holland's conversation with him in which he said the bodies were not his wife and mother-in-law. He told of Holland telling him, "The smaller woman can't be my wife because she weighed about 135 pounds". Hansen said that he had told Holland she weighed 155 pounds according to the investigation made. The finger-print identification card of Mrs. Holland, obtained in Texas, was introduced and on it her weight was given at 138 pounds.

Trooper Wells was recalled and he told of questioning Holland at General Headquarters of the patrol in Jefferson City, and the testimony was regarding the weight of Mrs. Holland.

Sergeant Clark W. Huston, of the patrol stationed at Ft. Leonard Wood, testified of his notification of the finding of the bodies and an investigation he conducted in the Lake of the Ozarks area which is in his territory.

Tells Of Investigation

Sergeant Paul E. Corl, formerly of Sedalia now of Lees Summit, testified regarding the investigation he conducted after being assigned to the case May 21. When questioned regarding any conversation he might have had with Holland, Sergeant Corl replied "I don't believe I can". He gave the same answer numerous times when Wesner endeavored to get him to be more definite in his answer to the question.

Tom Settles, LaMonte carpenter, told of going to the Holland home, with Tom Cowherd and Charles Barber to lay a new floor and do other carpenter work. He told of the removal of the threshold and laying the floor up to a new board on which the threshold had been placed, one which was in evidence when Lieut. Hockaday testified that he had obtained scrapings from the boards which he believed might be blood.

Charles Barber, LaMonte, also a carpenter who helped in the work gave practically the same testimony as Settles, and Cowherd regarding the flooring and linoleum which was taken from the floor.

Ellis R. Hall, garage owner in LaMonte, testified as to when the Cowherd car was taken to his garage by Mr. Cowherd and of Holland working on it practically all morning, Sunday, April 16.

Lowell Reavis, Ford dealer in LaMonte, told of the boat in question which was supposed to have been taken to the lake by Holland last year. Reavis testified the boat had been stored in his garage at least since June 1943, and probably two months longer than that. However, he produced a cancelled check for $150 which he gave Holland in payment for the boat, trailer and outboard motor on October 16, 1943. He said that Holland never had used the boat since last June, and he was confident that he never owned any other boat, or motor boat. At this point Mr. Wesner stated, "The defense rests".

Testimony Friday Afternoon

Ten witnesses Friday testified in the second day session of the preliminary hearing of Edgar W. Holland.

Stains on Bucket

Friday afternoon Lt. E. I. Hockaday, of the highway patrol said that two buckets, one a mop bucket, and the second an ordinary bucket with a dried rag in it were turned over to him for investigation. Stains on the latter bucket tested positive but he was not certain that they were human blood.

Test Stains On Cars

Hockaday told of making tests of stains on two cars which had been sold by Holland to the De Tar Motor Co., in Kansas City, and also on a truck belonging to A. A. Chevalier, LaMonte, to determine if there was any evidence of human blood. However, Hockaday declared nothing of any value came from the tests.

The lieutenant also told of going to Karl Wimer Lumber Yard in LaMonte, only Thursday after he had testified at the hearing and taking into his possession the much talked about storm door which had stains, identified as being those made by human blood.

John Ryan, county recorder, was called and one of his records regarding quit claim deeds was introduced as evidence the Holland farm was in the names of Edgar Holland and his wife, Mollie Mattie Holland.

Tom Cowherd, LaMonte, carpenter who laid the kitchen flooring and did other carpenter work at the house testified. He told of Holland coming to him and hiring him to do the work. He told of selling his 1938 Chevrolet coach to Holland, of turning it over to him on Monday after he had taken the car to Slim Hall's garage in LaMonte Sunday morning, April 16 so Holland could do some work on it. However, he did not give possession to the car until Monday.

Cowherd told of seeing Holland in LaMonte about 8:15 o'clock Saturday night, April 15, and of driving him to his farm about 11:30 o'clock that night.

He stated that when he went to the Holland farm on April 22, that he did not notice anything wrong in the kitchen, nor did he see any stains resembling blood.

Dr. D. P. Dyer, Sedalia, was called, and told of going to Columbia where he viewed the bodies upon the request of Captain J. F. Shaw of the highway patrol. He said the type of scar made from an incision when he operated on Mrs. Fairfax for gall stones, was identical as that when he operated for gall stones. Asked if it was the same as his, Dr. Dyer replied, "I would say they are very similar." Asked if the body was Mrs. Fairfax, he said "it was like that of Mrs. Fairfax, very big." Asked about identifying Mrs. Holland he said "I couldn't say."

Tells Of Offer

He was asked about a conversation which took place in his presence between Holland and Dr. John Powers, of Warrensburg. As to the conversation Dr. Dyer said Dr. Powers had said to Holland, "Ed I think you are on a spot. I think the bodies are your wife and mother-in-law." He also told of Holland saying "Why she's too big * * * Now look here boys I'll give you $500 apiece and I want to get out of this."

Mr. Wesner then questioned Dr. Dyer and said, "Mr. Holland asked permission to talk to you and Dr. Powers, and didn't he explain the body in his own mind too big and if you and Dr. Powers could clarify the situation he would pay you $500 apiece," to which Dr. Dyer answered "Yes."

Cowherd was recalled to the stand and explained the sale of his car to the court, and the visit to him by Captain Viets. Mr. Nutt told of Holland calling on him April 21 and telling him he wanted some paper hanging done and painting. I told him if it rained I would do it because I couldn't work on an outside job which I had contracted. It rained that night so I went out to the farm on Saturday. "I didn't notice anything wrong, nor did I see any stains, which would attract my attention as being made by blood." The hearing adjourned at this point and he is to be recalled this morning.

Petitions A Divorce

Alleging general indignities, A. M. Howard filed with the circuit clerk Saturday his petition for divorce from Mary Howard, whom said the Americans had buried 4,212 Germans and captured more than 42,000 for a total of at least 46,212 in the overall Cherbourg peninsula operation.

U. S. troops, backed by artillery and using bayonets, grenades and flame-throwers, were swiftly mopping up the last bit of resistance on the peninsula. Dispatches from Cherbourg said they had wrecked German railway artillery which had been hurling occasional shells into Cherbourg in an effort to slow American engineers working on the dynamited harbor installations.

Field reports from the British sector told of German troops going into battle straight from the march. One German officer drove furiously all the way from Paris to help direct German counter-bloves.

"He drove straight into our lines and was captured," a British officer added.

Rommel In Command

With Marshal Erwin Rommel reported taking over personal command in the field after the death of Col. Gen. Fredereich Dollman the Germans attacked both flanks of the British Odon river bridgehead on a 15-mile front between Caen and Villers-Bogage, enemy communication hub which the RAF's big bombers flattened Friday night with a 1,120 ton raid.

(A DNB broadcast said Allied landings were "being effected" behind a thick smoke screen east of the Orne estuary on the coast north of Caen, and that 300 ships were involved, including several battleships fighting a duel with Nazi coastal batteries. The broadcast was recorded by the Federal Communications Commission. There was no Allied confirmation.

(Other German broadcasts during the day said the Allies had captured an airfield near Caen, and that the British were using eight divisions, including four tank divisions, in the Tilly-Sur-Seulles sector 12 miles west of Caen.)

The Americans to the northwest captured Greville, Omonville LaRogue and Omonville La Petite on Cap De La Hague. They last were reported within three miles of the tip of the peninsula and presumably now have reached the end of the coastal road beyond Omonville La Petite.

On the middle of the 100-mile front U. S. troops in a sharp movement rolled within 2 1/2 miles of St. Lo with the capture of La Forge on the northeast.

The British bulge across the Odon river near Caen was described as "firm" and front discharges indicated that Lt. Gen. M. C. Dempsey, confident that the Germans were "off balance and rattled," was grinding down German patching attempts and bidding his time for a decisive push around Caen.

"The Hun found we were bristling with guns, tanks and troops," one British staff officer told Associated Press front correspondent Roger D. Greene after one German jab had failed and enemy troops had been thrown into a rapid retreat by a deadly barrage of British 17-pound guns.

Expect New Invasion

MADRID, July 1.—(AP)—Through German censorship from Paris today came flat statements that the Germans are expecting an invasion on the Mediterranean coast of France and that the situation inside France is "critical."

sector of the White Russian front up until today.

Rokossovsky's advance northward toward Minsk liberated more than 150 places during the day, the communique said.

The Berezina river also was reached at a point some 30 miles southeast of Minsk near the town of Berezino and due west of Mogilev. This thrust by the second White Russian army enveloped more than 50 communities, the communique said.

Defeat Into Rout

In turning the sudden German defeat into a rout, the Russians have announced the killing or capture of 183,930 enemy troops in a tabulation admittedly still incomplete. Moscow accounts said the week's figures should rise to at least 150,000 dead and 75,000 captured.

The gains also put the Russians slightly closer to Berlin than are the Americans and British in France and Italy. By an accident of military geography, the three major Allied fronts all were a little over 600 miles by air from the Nazi capital.

Moscow dispatches reported the Germans still were trying counterattacks in White Russia but indicated they were desperate, short-lived maneuvers, and said that tonight tattered, demoralized German units were tumbling back into Minsk with slight hopes of survival.

Discuss Huge Monetary Plan

Morgenthau Made Head Of American Delegation

By DON KOVACIC

BRETTON WOODS, N. H., July 1.—Calling for "a dynamic and a soundly expanding world economy," President Roosevelt sent a message of confidence and hope to the opening session of the United Nations Monetary and Financial Conference today.

Delegates from 44 nations, joined by an observer, from a 45th, Denmark, heard Mr. Roosevelt's greetings as they assembled in the mountain-encircled Mount Washington house for three weeks of discussions out of which may grow two new mammoth international financial institutions.

They immediately and unanimously named Treasury Secretary Morgenthau head of the American delegation, as conference president and heard him predict their decisions "will shape to a significant degree the nature of the world in which we are to live."

Eight Billion Fund

The party will consider proposals for an $8,000,000,000 monetary fund designed to stabilize world currencies and a $10,000,000,000 bank for reconstruction and development. Emphasizing that their discussions will affect "ordinary men and women everywhere," Mr. Roosevelt said that only through a dynamic and expanding world economy "can the living standards of individual nations be advanced to levels which will permit a full realization of our hopes for the future."

Morgenthau pleaded with the delegates to conduct their talks "not as bargainers but as partners; not as rivals but men who recognize that their common welfare depends, on peace as in war, upon mutual trust and joint endeavor."

The inaugural plenary session—only business meeting to which newsmen are to be admitted—was held in the flag-draped auditorium of the hotel.

The hotel grounds were declared a military reservation for the duration of the conference, with armed MPs on duty. All those at the conference including delegates—with rare exceptions—are required to double up in bedrooms. A threatened crisis in the American delegation was averted when last minute arrangements were made to provide a private room for one protesting member.

Terming commerce the life blood of a free society, Mr. Roosevelt told the conference the arteries that carry that blood stream must never again be clogged "by artificial barriers created through senseless economic rivalries."

Dewey's immediate plans still were vague, but when he left the train the general understanding with his aides appeared to be that the next few weeks would be spent in intensive organization work.

The Dewey board of strategy, including Herbert Brownell, Jr., the new national committeeman, went on to New York.

Pre-Holidays Violent Deaths

By The Associated Press

Violent deaths marred the beginning of the four-day Fourth of July weekend yesterday (Sat.) as pleasure seekers throughout the nation jammed transportation facilities for holiday trips despite pleas of the Office of Defense Transportation for a stay-at-home celebration.

By last night 52 deaths on the highway, in the water and from other causes had been reported.

Before the long weekend began, the National Safety Council predicted that probably 1,000 persons would die accidentally during the 96 hour period.

During the three-day Independence day weekend last year, at least 298 persons died violently, an Associated Press survey found. The number included 127 traffic fatalities, 84 drownings and 87 deaths from other causes.

Two Named To Serve On FSA Committee

McKinley Thomas And C. S. Arnold Are Appointed

McKinley Thomas, of Beaman, has been appointed Pettis County Farm Security Administration committeeman for three years beginning July 1, 1944. Mr. Thomas replaces John M. Sneed whose three year appointment has expired. Also Charles S. Arnold of the Hughesville community has been appointed to fill the unexpired term of Earl B. Hinken who resigned to accept an appointment as Assistant FSA supervisor (farm) for Pettis county. Mr. Arnold's appointment will terminate June 30, 1945. These appointments are made by Claude R. Wickard, Secretary of Agriculture.

F. B. VanDyke Chairman

Serving with Mr. Arnold and Mr. Thomas for the next twelve months will be Frank B. VanDyke, Smithton, Missouri, committee chairman.

Mr. Thomas is owner-operator of a 157 acre general farm northeast of Beaman, where in his farming operation he emphasizes soil conservation practices and the production of high quality livestock. He is a member of the Farm Bureau and is serving as a member of the Pettis County Farm Machinery Rationing Committee. He also accepts leadership in all activities of community development.

Mr. Arnold is owner-operator of a 160 acre general farm west of Hughesville which he purchased about a year ago. Prior to that time he farmed as a tenant-operator. Since purchasing his present farm he has inaugurated a complete system of soil conservation, having already laid out terraces in three major fields on the farm.

He is a member of the executive council of the Pettis County Farm Bureau and takes an active part in community affairs, and is a veteran of World War I.

The FSA County Committee approves all applicants for Farm Security loans, helps families plan their farm and home operations for maximum effectiveness, and advises the county FSA supervisor on agricultural problems in the county of concern to the low income farm families and of ways the FSA can help in a community. This federal agency provides two types of supervised credit for eligible families. The first is a rehabilitation loan to low-producing farmers requiring credit to increase the productivity of their family-type farms. The second provides long-term, low-interest loans for purchase of desirable farms by tenant farmers. Both types of loans include advisory services by the county FSA supervisors and the three county committee.

200 Repay In Full

Rehabilitation loans and supervisory services have been supplied to 399 families in Pettis County since the FSA program was introduced in 1935. Of these, 200 borrowers have repaid their loans in full and are now farming on their own or have become qualified for credit from local banking agencies.

In the county 40 farm families are being helped to achieve farm ownership. Of this number one has already repaid his farm purchase loan in full since the tenant-purchase program was introduced in the county in 1940. The other new owners are repaying their purchase loans approximately two times as rapidly as set up in their forty-year repayment schedule.

Work of the county committee has been a major factor in the success of the FSA program in Pettis County. Committeemen have given up their own time to help with the problems of individual borrowers, according to Oscar H. De Wolf, Pettis County FSA Supervisor.

New Position Be Offered Armour

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON, July 1.—(AP)—Ambassador Norman Armour, now on his way home from Buenos Aires under recall orders, will be offered a top-flight position in the state department, it was reported in official quarters tonight, thus leaving this country without an ambassador to Argentina.

The department announced earlier this week that Armour was being recalled "for consultation." The decision not to return him to Argentina, leaving the Buenos Aires post open indefinitely, is understood officially to emphasize Washington disapproval and non-recognition of the plans and policies of the militarist regime now control there.

The state department job to be offered Armour, diplomatic officials said, is that of director of the Office of American Republic Affairs, which is being reshuffled at the top.

In this capacity Armour would serve directly under Secretary of State Hull in shaping the nation's Latin American relations, in which the most critical situation now is that of Argentina.

Raid Robot Bombs Bases

By HENRY B. JAMESON

SUPREME HEADQUARTERS, ALLIED EXPEDITIONARY FORCE, Sunday, July 2.—(AP)—

Two separate forces of Allied heavy bombers, one British one American, attacked German robot bomb installations across the channel in Northern France shortly before dusk yesterday, beginning a new month of operations after they and other planes had flown more than 100,000 sorties in June.

The American formation was composed of less than 250 Liberators, and escorting fighters shot down eight Nazi fighters, sprayed 29 barges, three locomotives, nine railway cars, three anti-aircraft cars and five trucks with machine-gun bullets.

Allied losses were one bomber from each force and two American fighters.

The bombing of the concrete chutes from which the Germans are hurling their rocket bombs at Britain was done by instrument because of a heavy cloud cover. Bad weather earlier in the day had cut air activity to one of the lowest points since D-Day, June 6.

LISTEN!

IMAGINE, IF YOU WILL, any one with the pep and energy of vivacious Sally Carson being confined to bed for any length of time! That's the sad situation with "our gal, Sally." And while the doctor says it won't be for too long, she is currently undergoing hospitalization.

Knowing a hospital's policy of "early to bed and early to rise" we'll bet Sally will be a daily listener of the "Early Bird Jamboree," if not to see how the gang gets along without her, just for sheer enjoyment... something like the proverbial postman's holiday!

HAVE YOU tuned in that totally new and different drama idea, now being heard on Tuesdays at 10:30 p. m.? The spellbinding, "The Doctor Fights" stars that great actor, Raymond Massey. It's packed with thrills from the battlefronts, real and human drama on the homefront. "Dateline" is another show just getting its footing on KMBC Mondays at 10:15 p. m.—exciting dramatizations of eye witness war stories... And to the KMBC front during June came "Service to The Front," Friday nights at 7:30.

TIME AND PROGRAM CHANGES are practically a daily occurrence during July. First off, James Melton takes over the Sunday evening "Star Theatre" at 8:30. "Adventure and Romance" will fill the 1:00 to 1:30 spot on Sundays in the form of "Dangerously Yours." The mischievous but lovable "Corliss Archer" switches to Thursdays at 8:30 p. m. Bob Hawk's "Thanks to the Yanks" replaces "Blondie" Mondays at 6:30. A new drama, "This Changing World" will be a 4 o'clock feature Mondays through Fridays... and "Theatre of Romance" moves in Tuesdays at 7:30. Confusing but amusing!

ACCORDING TO THE MAIL BAG there is some question about Tiny Timillans. Figuring it from an angle of logic one might very easily picture him as a little bit of a "fellow" sort of "Tiny." But, on the other hand, he could be tall (?) ... or fat (?) ... or both (?) ... One listener, a woman, in wanting to know what Tiny looks like, unknowingly has the answer, for after Tiny saw the signature he said, "She ought to know—I used to be her milkman!"

'ALLIES BREAK THROUGH'

The above was a headline in today's paper after twenty days of fighting on the Normandy fields. The allies broke through because of persistence, violence, volume and repetition of their efforts which is the law of summation. When I read that headline I thought how comparable it was to the action of the nervous system. One may have a slight irritation at some point, say the spine, and not be aware of it. It keeps on and on and continues to add to its force until finally it "breaks through" and you feel a pain or become ill. The repetition and persistence of the irritation finally "breaks through" to your consciousness. There must be a certain degree of stimulation before it hurts. The trouble was there all the time but you did not know it.

Chiropractors can locate these points of irritation in many cases before the patient is aware of the condition, and prevent development of what might be a very disagreeable illness.

Summation is the straw that breaks the camel's back. It is the breaking through of a connection ordinarily closed.

A clear understanding of the neurological principle of summation is necessary in order to comprehend the cause of disease or how it is cured from a chiropractic point of view. By removing the violence of the irritation the normal connection will again be adequate and comfort will result. Chiropractic restores normal nerve supply and health.

The Twilight League Plays On Wednesday

Second Half Of The Season Scheduled To Begin This Week

Wednesday evening the Twilight softball league will swing into the last half of the season's play with the favored Missouri Pacific Reclaimers out in front by a margin of half-a-game. Close on the heels of the leaders is the Sacred Heart aggregation and the Sedalia Army Air Field Officers who have played one less game due to the fact that they had their open dates earlier in the season.

The games played the past week ran true to form in that at least one game is decided by extra innings or was won by a one-run margin. The Officers defeated the USO by a 6 to 5 score and provided the feature contest of the week.

The games this week were scheduled for Wednesday instead of Tuesday because of the Fourth of July, and will switch back to the regular schedule of Tuesdays the following week. The games to be played will be those which are scheduled for the week of July 11. This change in the schedule is being done so Sacred Heart might have its open date the coming week inasmuch as several of their players are on vacation.

The following games are slated for Wednesday evening: Missouri Pacific Carmen vs. S.A.A.F. Officers and Rosenthal's vs. USO at 6:15 o'clock; Pepsi-Cola vs. Reclaimers at 7:15; Sacred Heart open date.

The standings to date:

TEAM	W.	L.	Pct.
Reclaimers	3	1	.750
SAAF Officers	2	1	.666
Sacred Heart	2	1	.666
MoPac Carmen	1	1	.500
USO	1	2	.333
Rosenthal's	1	3	.250
Pepsi Cola	1	3	.250

Expression Wins First Stake Derby

CHICAGO, July 1.—(P)—Expression, a trim two-year-old eastern filly sired by the 29-year-old The Porter, raced to her first stake victory today in winning the $38,000 Arlington Park Lassie by the margin of a head over the Calumet Farm's Twosy.

Three and a half lengths farther back in third place was Blue Alibi, at odds of 30 to 1. Blud Skimmer, the favorite, was fourth in the field of eight.

The winner is owned by Mrs. Payne Whitney's famed Green-tree stable and was ably ridden by Jockey Ferril Zufelt who came from New York for the engagement. Expression ran the six furlongs in 1:12 2/5.

Coming here from Aqueduct early in the week, Expression had worked a sensationally fast three-eighths but a majority of the crowd of 20,000 believed the race was between Twosy and Dr. Esie Asbury's Blue Skimmer in the wagering. Expression paid $9.60, $5.20 and $4.20. Twosy was $4.20 and $3.20, and Blue Alibi was $8.60 to show.

Merchants To Play Versailles Here Today

Sedalia Team To Enter The State Semi-Pro Tourney

The Versailles Merchants baseball team will come to Sedalia this afternoon to meet the Sedalia Merchants on the Liberty Park ball diamond. The game is scheduled to be called at 2:30 o'clock.

Several times in the 1943 season these two ball clubs crossed bats and each time the outcome of the score was extremely close, which indicated excellent baseball playing. With "Skinny" White leading the visitors as their mound star, the Versailles aggregation comes to Sedalia again with a strong ball club. Buerke, a former Cole Camp favorite, is the catcher for the visiting team.

"Lefty" Harold Green or Ozzie Sherman, the latter a rough right hander, with Gus Shirley, also a southpaw, in reserve, will take over the Sedalia team mound duties. Humes will be behind the plate on the receiving end. Manager Palmer Nichols, Saturday, stated he hadn't decided who the starting pitcher would be, but either Green or Sherman would draw the assignment.

Probable lineup for the visitors will be: McKee, first base; Garrison, second base; Kirchner, short stop; Cable, third base; L. Garrison, left field; Warnke, center field; Ahrens, right field; Buerke, catch, and White pitch.

The Merchants plan on entering the Missouri state Semi-Pro baseball tournament in Kansas City this month. They played in the 1943 tourney and ended in a money position.

Jr. Legion In Playoff With Jefferson City

First Game To Be Played Today In The Capital City

The Sedalia Junior Legion baseball team will play the Jefferson City Junior Legion team on the Jefferson City diamond this afternoon. This is the first of a three-game series between the two teams and will decide which team will represent Central Missouri in the State Junior Legion Baseball Tournament to be held in St. Louis in August, 1944.

The right to represent Central Missouri in the State Tournament is a very high honor for any team to win, therefore Sunday's contest will hold lots of interest and will be a hard fought game. Several Legionnaires and other baseball fans are expecting to make the trip. The Sedalia team will leave promptly at 10:45 a. m.

The players who will make the trip are: Capes, Johnson, Thomas, Potts, Waters, Thompson, Harmon, J. Tuggle, May, Cooney, Schumaker, Livengood, Herrick and Rodgers.

Handicap Tourney At Country Club July 4

The men golfers of the Sedalia Country Club will participate in a handicap golf tournament to be sponsored by the club on Tuesday, July 4th.

It was also announced the annual Inter-City golf tournament between Sedalia, Columbia, Fulton and Jefferson City, will get underway on July 18. The first meet will be at Jefferson City and the second at Columbia on July 25th.

Instead of holding matches in each of the cities, the tournament play will be in only two cities as was done in 1943. The reason for cutting the tourney short is due to traveling conditions.

The local committee hopes to have at least twenty players qualify for the team which is to represent Sedalia in this tournament. Qualification will be based on the golf playing to be enjoyed Tuesday, the Fourth.

Bill Tilden Still A Tennis Wizard

PHILADELPHIA, July 1.—(P)—Big Bill Tilden, still lean and bronzed but a little grayer at 51, demonstrated his old-time wizardry on the tennis courts here today, stealing the show as usual as 3,000 fans bought $4,000,000 worth of war bonds to see a four-star cricket exhibition at the Merion Cricket Club.

Tilden took only 30 minutes to subdue his old-time doubles partner, Vienne Richards, by a 6-2, 6-2 score.

Then he teamed up with Alice Marble to defeat Mary Hardwick Hare, British star, and Richards, in mixed doubles, 6-3, 6-4. Miss Marble had defeated Mrs. Hare 6-1, 7-5 in their singles match.

Sport Scraps

(By D. KELLY SCRUTON)

I'VE been waiting a long time for this opportunity, and it finally has arrived when I can tell tales out of school on Ed Willets, an ardent golf fan. It so happens that Ed shot a couple of par-36's on the Country Club golf course recently and felt swelled up over the whole game. He felt so good he started choosing this one and that to golf.

Then the "rib" was put on and nobody would take Ed, so he became "big hearted" and said to his golf colleagues that he would spot anyone 8 strokes. It seems he got a couple of takers in Harold Junge and Glenn Neely and they went out on the fairways and greens with the "par-shooter".

It so happened his challenge was a little too strong, according to Neely and Junge, in fact they now claim they should have given Willets a few strokes—they didn't say how many. Anyway Willets hasn't said very much about those matches, and from the rumors that have reached this desk, he isn't anxious to meet anyone else at the club on "his own terms".

To make matters worse, I am told Neely shot a birdie on No. 1, making it in three, the hole is 4-par, then along comes Junge with a birdie on No. 3, a par 4 hole.

Anyway the boys around the Country Club locker room, I am told are rather enjoying waiting to see Willets when he comes in to get ready to play.

THE few tennis players in Sedalia—and I mean a few—can now play on the Smith-Cotton high school courts. The courts have been put into excellent playing condition and they are being kept properly mowed.

I have noticed in the past couple of weeks one or two courts have been kept busy during the late evenings, but those in charge would rather see them busy from sun up to darkness. The more they are used the better condition they seem to get in.

SOME time ago Sgt. W. H. "Izzy" Smith, employee of the P. Goldsmith Sons, sporting goods company, now on leave while serving with Uncle Sam, wrote back and told of baseball in the South Pacific, down New Guinea baseball front—even to night games. His description is interesting and I pass it along.

He tells of how fast they worked on it, it took four days to get it into playing condition. The letter continued: "We keep improving it from day to day and at present it is almost as good as the diamonds back home. Of course, we don't have any grass at all; if you gave grass a start it would be over your head in a few days in this climate."

To regulate play, the AA Group Command of all Anti-aircraft Battalions of this area formed a league, with well over ten teams. Sorry the censors can't pass the number of teams, but there's plenty of competition. Though games were scheduled every afternoon in the week, it was impossible to work all the games in. We couldn't build another field, so the only solution was to light the present one.

"To get the proper lighting effects required poles fifty feet high," Sgt. Smith explained. "So they cut twelve coconut trees, placing them around the field. Reflectors were built on boards, twenty by twenty feet."

"The reflectors were painted white. Twelve searchlights of eight hundred million candlepower each were then placed about twelve feet from the bottom of the poles and focused on the reflectors at the top. Four floodlights of 750 watts each were placed around home plate to eliminate any possible shadows."

"This field doesn't have quite enough light around second base," Sgt. Smith added, "but no stadium in the United States can boast of having even one-twelfth of the candlepower that the Artillery Field in New Guinea has under the present setup." Commenting on the value of the field, Sgt. Smith said: "It is worth ten times the man hours it took to build it, not only for the physical fitness, recreation and sportsmanship it has brought the boys, but also because it has boosted the morale 100 per cent. Night softball, touchball and track meets are also on the program for the future. This is a mighty good spot to come to rest up for the second half of the game with the Japs in the near future. I am beginning to believe what the Aussies say, 'You Yanks sure get things done in a hurry.'"

Sgt. Smith added in conclusion: "This is just one example of the American way of life, and how much sports and recreation play in that life at home and abroad toward making Americans among the most able warriors in the world. These facilities are enjoyed by the individual soldier about one out of every seven months, with the other six usually spent playing a new sport—but a very serious one."

No Girls' USO Softball Practice On Monday

The USO girls' softball team will not hold practice this Monday evening, as usual because of the 4th of July holidays, but will resume play on Friday evening of this week at which time a game is planned for an out-of-town team. Girls are asked to meet at the high school Friday at 6:55 p. m.

Humanizing On Weather Forecasts

WASHINGTON, July 1.—(P)—When 39-year-old Donald Cameron took over as head man at the national airport weather station here last May 1, he said it was his intention to "humanize" the daily forecasts.

And he has followed through, in a conservative sort of way.

Today, however, he really pulled out the stops for the forthcoming holiday period, forecasting for the District of Columbia and five adjacent states: "Pleasant weekend, cool in early morning, warm, sunny afternoons and moonlight nights."

Harding was the first serious-minded golfer to occupy the White House. He was a fashion plate on the links and often attracted galleries that a Bobby Jones might envy.

Herbert Hoover never patronized the links but he liked sports. Calvin Coolidge, like Hoover, was a fisherman. Both of them attended the opening baseball games at Griffith Stadium regularly.

President Roosevelt's sports activities are confined to swimming and fishing. He loves all water athletics—even goes in for an occasional yacht race. He's the first chief executive to use the prize fighters' two-fisted handshake to acknowledge the plaudits of the crowd at a baseball game.

Browns Ease To A 9 To 1 Win At Boston

St. Louis Gets Ten Walks Off Of Three Boston Pitchers

BOSTON, July 1.—(P)—The St. Louis Browns collected ten walks off three Boston pitchers today as they gained an easy 9 to 1 victory behind the five-hit pitching of Nelson Potter, a Red Sox cast off. The Red Sox starting pitcher, Clem Hausmann, walked four of the first five batters in the opening inning, during which the Browns collected four runs on one hit.

Don Gutteridge and Mike Kreevich walked to open up festivities. George McQuinn sacrificed and Vern Stephens walked, filling the bases.

A walk for Gene Moore forced in the first run and Kreevich scored the second on Mike Ryba's wild pitch. Milton Byrnes' fly to center scored Stephens and Mark Christman's only hit of the inning brought Moore in.

As the fourth run came in Ryba who took over for Hausmann with one-third the inning gone did all right through the seventh. In the eighth, however, McQuinn walked and Stephens and Moore doubled, accounting for the first two of five runs.

Moore was thrown out at third as Byrnes attempted to sacrifice and Christman and Frank Mancuso singled in succession to score another run.

Emmett O'Neil was called in to take over for Ryba. He struck out Potter and walked Gutteridge. A single by Kreevich brought in the last two.

The lone Boston run came in the ninth when O'Neil scored on Pete Fox's single.

Bride and Bridegroom

Miss Margaret Jane Brown, daughter of Mrs. Clyde M. Brown, 504 West Fifth street, and Pfc. Harold Robert Hayden, son of Mrs. Galen Kauble of Lorraine, Ohio, and Mr. Frederick Hayden of St. Louis, were married at 8:30 o'clock Friday night at the Calvary Episcopal church with the rector, the Rev. Fordyce E. Eastburn, reading the double ring service in the presence of relatives and close friends of the bride couple. The bridegroom is stationed at the Sedalia Army Air Field.

Pink gladioli were in the vases at either side of the altar which was illuminated by tapers in two seven-branch candelabra.

Mrs. James W. Atkinson, church organist, played an organ prelude and also the Bridal Chorus from "Lohengrin" and the Mendelssohn wedding recessional.

The bride wore a poudre blue dress with white accessories and her corsage was of red roses and stephanotis. She was given in marriage by her brother-in-law, Mr. John D. Rucker of Sedalia.

Her sister, Mrs. John D. Rucker, served as matron of honor. Her dress was of yellow sheer worn with white accessories and a corsage of yellow roses and stephanotis.

Pvt. James J. Kane of Boston, who is stationed at the Sedalia Army Air Field acted as best man.

The bride is a graduate of Smith-Cotton high school and of the Washington University School of Nursing in St. Louis. She served in the Army Nurse Corps for a year and at present is on the nursing staff at the Bothwell Memorial hospital.

Pfc. Hayden received his education in Upper Sandusky, Ohio, and enlisted in the army eighteen months ago. Since April he has been stationed at the Sedalia Army Air Field where he is attending crew chief school.

After a short wedding trip to St. Louis he and his bride will reside at 320 West Tenth street.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Brown of Pacific, Mo., uncle and aunt of the bride.

The marriage of Miss Myrtle Vest Donohue and Mr. Frank T. Johnson, both of Sedalia, was solemnized at the Fifth Street Methodist church at 10 o'clock Thursday morning in the presence of a few close friends. The Rev. H. J. Rand of Kansas City, a personal friend, read the service, assisted by the Rev. H. U. Campbell, pastor of the church.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnson are residing at 1615 South Beacon avenue.

Mrs. Johnson for a number of years has been teaching at Horace Mann school, teaching sixth grade pupils. Mr. Johnson is employed at the State Fair Floral company service station.

Miss Barbara Mary Jennings, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John F. Jennings of Ottawa, Kas., became the bride of Staff Sergeant Alvin G. Dornes of the Signal Corps, United States Army, son of Mrs. Emma J. Dornes of Ottumwa, Saturday evening, June 17, in the chapel of Sacred Heart Catholic church in Ottawa.

The Rev. A. R. Portelance read the double ring ceremony at 8 o'clock. Before the service candles in the chapel were lighted by John Francis Clarkin, III, nephew of the bride. Only immediate families of the bride and bridegroom attended the wedding.

The bride's father gave her in marriage. She wore a two-piece dress of white embroidered eyelet fashioned with a portrait neckline. Her hat was white milan straw with white ribbon bows and a white-bridal veil. She carried a white prayer book topped with gardenias. Miss Audrey Ann Jennings attended her sister as maid of honor. Her dress was gray jersey with a portrait neckline. She wore black accessories and her corsage was of red carnations.

Corporal Roland F. Dornes, brother of the bridegroom, was best man.

The bride's mother wore black sheer and the mother of the bridegroom was attired in tulle tan spun rayon. Their corsages were carnations.

A reception for the immediate families and a few close friends followed the ceremony. A three-tier wedding cake topped with a white starched lace basket filled with pink and white rosebuds was centered in a wreath of pink and white rosebuds and gypsophila. Throughout the rooms there were Madona lilies and pink and white roses. Miss Lee Dornes, sister of the bridegroom, assisted in serving.

Red Cross Corner

The Red Cross office will be closed all day Monday and Tuesday.

The Gray Ladies Corps is in need of a high chair. Often in the course of the chores and duties of this group of Red Cross Volunteers a chair, higher than the average is a necessity. So if anyone in Sedalia has such a chair, and would be willing to lend it to the Gray Ladies for the duration, it will be greatly appreciated. Call 618 for transportation.

Mrs. Albert Wright, of the Red Cross Motor Corps, added to the prestige of that department late Thursday afternoon. The mother and father of a soldier, stationed at the Sedalia Army Air Field arrived in town about five o'clock. Their son could not meet them, and they were unable to find transportation to the air base. The Red Cross was contacted, and, as is usual with that organization, solved the problem. The chairman of the Motor Corps called Mrs. Wright, who took the mother and father to the SAAF. Needless to say, the Pettis county chapter was delighted to be able to perform this service.

Miss Agnes Quin, chairman of Surgical Dressings, has given us some more interesting data from her department. The statistics from Miss Quin always carry a punch, bringing to us a realization of the enormous importance of this branch of volunteer work. Evidently National Headquarters is favorably impressed with these same statistics, as our quotas are so frequently increased. The AAUW, meeting on Tuesday night, under the supervision of Mrs. Philip McLaughlin, had 9 in their group last Tuesday, and produced 1300 dressings. On Friday night, the unit composed of business and professional women, under the direction of Miss Grace Carter, and Miss Eva Evans, had 22 in attendance, and made 2050 dressings. This same group will have a picnic Sunday night at Shady Grove, the country home of Miss Rebekah Shaeffer and Miss Charlotte Snow. Miss Quin, and Mrs. Robert Spencer will be special guests.

Our heartfelt congratulations to Mrs. William Steele and Mrs. A. L. Lacer for their really brilliant work in establishing the new Red Cross Sewing Room. Everyone knows of the almost vital importance of the Red Cross kit bags, and under the supervision of Mrs. Steele, the work on our present quota is being well done. The new room is well ordered and equipped, and well attended.

YES, MA'AM, YOU CAN!

ANYONE can can successfully. Oh, yes—if you use up-to-date methods and a little care.

And how glad you'll be next winter! With the help of your home-canned food, your family will eat and eat well, in spite of scarcities.

It's up to you! More millions of our men fighting overseas mean an even greater military call on our commercially canned food supply. In looking out for your own family you help our country to Victory.

For success, do these 3 things:

1. Preserve only sound, strictly fresh produce—the excess from your Victory Garden, and produce from local farms and market gardens.
2. Use only up-to-date scientific methods. Such information may be obtained by writing to your State College of Agriculture or to "Home Canning", U. S. Department of Agriculture, Washington 25, D. C. Or follow the methods taught at your local canning center (ask your school or newspaper if there's one in your community).
3. Use only proper equipment. If you haven't got it, or can't buy it, arrange to share someone else's canner... or use the facilities provided by your community canning center.

Governor In Address Here Stresses Unity

Forrest C. Donnell For Useful Works After The War

Stressing the importance of unity and cooperation in war, Governor Forrest C. Donnell, speaking Friday night in the interest of his campaign for the U. S. senate, outlined four major reasons why the coming election is of outstanding importance to the people.

First, he said, as a nation at war the congress will have important duties relative to the financial problems of the country. In addition to the war loan, there will be the necessity for provision of funds for current operations and military production, if the war continues. If the war should be over before 1945 there will remain the enormous problem of interest on the war debt at two per cent per annum. "The task is no simple matter," he emphasized. Rates of taxation must be sufficiently low not to discourage industry but high enough to provide enough funds—a definite problem.

For Useful Public Works
The second point is the problem of employment after the war, with the return of thousands to civilian industry. Congress, said the governor, will have an important function in this problem. Declaring, "I do not advocate building up of useless work of any kind." He expressed his opinion that he believes there will be some necessity for supplementing civilian industry through the creation of useful public works and the extension of credits to industry.

A third problem will be the rehabilitation and education of veterans and the supplying of medical and surgical treatment to those who return. He referred to statistics to emphasize the importance of this major issue, also urging his interest in the continuance of interrupted educations of those who are in service.

Goal Lasting Peace
A fourth and chief goal for which congress must strive, said the candidate, is a "lasting, enduring and just peace" such as the world has never known before—something which has never yet been solved. Using the term adopted in the Republican national platform, he stated that he believes it possible through "international cooperation by the sovereign nations of the world" to achieve such a peace.

Gov. Donnell gave as an illustration of the splendid cooperation throughout the nation, a recent incident at a conference of governors in Pennsylvania, when Governors Broughton (D) of North Carolina and Saltonstall (R) of Massachusetts joined hands and delivered orations on a spot near where Lincoln delivered the famed Gettysburg address, an incident which to him seemed highly "illustrious of the present unity."

Not only is the senatorial election of importance, but the election of local officials forms for the public the conception of government. If local offices are filled by competent men, these conceptions are raised, he pointed out. Following his address on the west court house lawn, he heartily thanked Pettis county for its warm reception and commended its people for their splendid work in the Fifth War Loan.

Speeches For 166 Towns
Governor and Mrs. Donnell are traveling in every section of the state, and he has scheduled speeches in 166 towns and cities embracing 90 counties over Missouri, not including his engagements in Kansas City and St. Louis. With them is Maurice W. Covert, his campaign manager, from Jefferson City.

Thursday night they stayed in Clinton where the governor spoke earlier in the evening, his sixth address for that day. Friday they appeared in Appleton City, Deepwater, Calhoun and Windsor. On Wednesday he spoke five times. After the speech Friday night, the governor and Mrs. Donnell received a great number in the large audience, young and old, while music was played on their sound truck. Also on the porch with them were all of the local Republican candidates.

Don S. Lamm, a personal friend of the Donnells, introduced the governor following the invocation by the Rev. Clyde S. Sherman, pastor of the First Christian church.

Truck Drivers Strike Postponed

CHICAGO, Ill., July 1—(AP)—Threatened strike of 26,000 over the road truck drivers in eight midwestern states, scheduled for midnight Friday night, has been postponed pending a WLB hearing in Washington July 6. Thomas E. Flynn, executive assistant to the president of the AFL international brotherhood of teamsters, said late Friday.

Flynn said notice of the postponement had been telegraphed to the War Labor Board. The strike had been ordered by the AFL Central States Drivers' Council in protest against the refusal of the midwest operators association to put into effect a wage increase ordered by the WLB.

Earlier today the WLB ordered the association, representing 113 trucking companies in twelve midwestern states to show cause at a hearing in Washington July 6 why the board's wage increase order had not been complied with.

Parachutists Out Of Mile-Deep Gorge

GRAND CANYON, Ariz., July 1—(AP)—Nine days after they floated by emergency parachute into the depths of the Grand Canyon, three army airmen Friday clambered back out of the mile-deep gorge, safe and well.

They were guided to safety by two veteran climbers who descended the ninth rim through a deep crevasse sighted from the air. Three other rescue parties were frustrated by the boiling waters of the Colorado river and rock walls of the great gorge.

The fliers, Second Lt. Charles Goldblum, Pittsburgh, Pa.; Flight Officer Maurice J. Cruickshank, Jr., Lawrence, Mass., and Cpl. Roy W. Eubanks, Kalispel, Mont., were given physical examinations before they sat down to an army-prepared meal at the north rim entrance of the national park.
